1. FC MAGDEBURG - ROTHERHAM UNITED
ELM-Stadium, Schöningen

THE VENUE

Schöningen is a town of about 11300 inhabitants in the district of Helmstedt, in Lower Saxony, Germany. The town is located on the southeastern rim of the Elm hill range, near the border with the state of Saxony-Anhalt. Schöningen is known for the Paläon, a prehistoric research centre.

THE STADIUM

The Elmstadium is a sports ground with a tartan track. It has space for 4000 fans. There is an unroofed stand with 322 seats and 1800 standing places. The rest of the stadium is at ground level. The football field is demarcated by barriers.

The fans are allowed to stand everywhere. There will be no separation between Magdeburg fans and Rotherham fans.

ARRIVAL BY TRAIN

It exists no train station in Schöningen. First you have to go by train to Helmstedt. There you take the bus line 370 to Schöningen.

From the bus station you go via Burgplatz and the street „Westendorf“ to the B244. There you have to turn right and then go straight on to the Elmstraße. Turn left and go straight on to the stadium entrance.

The distance is about 1000 meters.

ARRIVAL BY CAR

On the A2 from Berlin or Hannover take the departure/exit Helmstedt. Turn left onto the B1 towards Helmstedt. Drive to the crossroads B244. Turn left and drive past the power plant „Buschhaus“, through Esbeck to Schöningen. Stay on the B244 until the Elmstraße. Drive straight into the Elmstraße and drive ahead to the stadium.

PARKING SPACES

You can park directly at the stadium, if there are spaces available. Otherwise, there will be stewards, who show you the way to other parking lots.
